

TRENDING

After Mumbai, Fake Hand Sanitizer Manufacturing Unit Busted Near Gurugram. 5000 Bottles Seized

KC Archana | Updated: Mar 14, 2020, 11:08 IST

The coronavirus pandemic seems to have brought out some unimaginable scenarios: While some are disguising as fake doctors in order to mug people others are manufacturing fake sanitizers for a few bucks!

In Harayana, the Food and Drug Administration busted a fake hand sanitizer manufacturing company and seized at least 5,000 hand sanitizers.

ANI

The bottles of these so-called sanitizers were being sold under the name of Viro-rub. Around 1,000 liters of isopropyl alcohol (IPA) was also seized from the manufacturing unit.

Amandeep Chauhan, Drugs Control Officer told The Tribune, “They had already sold 2,500 bottles of the sanitiser in the market before the FDA authorities could get a tip-off and raid the unit.”

Source: <https://www.indiatimes.com/trending/wtf/after-mumbai-fake-hand-sanitizer-manufacturing-unit-busted-near-gurugram-5000-bottles-seized-508357.html>