COIMBATORE: Police on Friday arrested a 30-year-old man, who posed as a Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) officer and duped several people by promising them government jobs.

Police identified him as B Rajagiri, a native of Thiruppalur at Palakkad in Kerala. "He was working as a wall painter in Salem, where he developed a relationship with Annalakshmi, a mother of two, who had separated from her husband. He had brought her and her children to his rented house at Sathya Nagar at BK Pudur in Kuniyamuthur two months ago. He was also having affairs with several women at BK Pudur and surrounding areas. Annalakshmi, who came to know about this, on Thursday informed Kuniyamuthur police about his activities. She told police that Rajagiri had collected thousands of rupees from various people in Salem and BK Pudur by promising them government jobs," Kuniyamuthur police sub-inspector TH Ganesh said.

Kuniyamuthur police seized a fake identity card from him and registered a case against him under Section 419 of the Indian Penal Code. He was lodged in the Coimbatore Central Prison. tnn
