

Maharashtra: Jalna police bust over 420 liquor dens

TNN | Updated: May 21, 2020, 12:51 IST

A-

A+

Representative image

AURANGABAD: The Jalna police have busted over 420 dens illegally manufacturing spurious liquor ever since the lockdown came into force on March 23 and seized articles worth around Rs 1.07 crore.

Police said that they have destroyed thousands of litres of spurious liquor during the raids conducted under the jurisdictions of 17 police stations across Jalna district.

As per the details provided by the Jalna police, 355 cases were registered and articles worth Rs 89.69 lakh seized.

LATEST COMMENT

Mumbai recorded 1,372 new coronavirus positive cases on Wednesday and with it, the city's tally surged to 23,935. Also, 41 people succumbed to the virus taking the death toll of the Maximum City to 8...Read More

Guest

SEE ALL COMMENTS

ADD COMMENT

Jalna police also arrested 470 suspects while the local crime branch team headed by inspector Rajendersingh Gaur registered 66 cases, seized articles worth Rs 17.26 lakh and arrested 50 suspects.

The decision to keep a serious check on the sale and supply of spurious liquor was taken after police found that the administrations across the country imposed a blanket ban on the sale of liquor.

Source: <https://timesofindia.indiatimes.com/city/aurangabad/jalna-police-bust-over-420-liquor-dens/articleshow/75854165.cms>