

THE TIMES OF INDIA

Spurious ghee racket busted in city, 1 arrested

Jaipur: Ahead of the festive season, the city police on Sunday organised a crackdown on spurious ghee racket in two separate locations and arrested one person. Police teams confiscated over a thousand packets, tins and jars with counterfeit labels of leading dairy companies. Head constable Chandra Pal received intel regarding a large workshop on Sansar Chandra Road under the Jalupura police station area that was producing and stockpiling counterfeit ghee. Police conducted a raid at the location and discovered 94 packets of ghee bearing logo of a prominent dairy company within the state. They also found counterfeit ghee packed in 720 packets of another well-known brand. In addition to the ghee, counterfeit stamps and seals were also recovered during the operation. During the raid, the police arrested an accused identified as Vishnu Kumar. Following interrogation, the accused led the authorities to another similar operation being conducted by his brother-in-law in Chaksu.

Read more at:

http://timesofindia.indiatimes.com/articleshow/102689895.cms?from=mdr&utm_source=contentofinterest&utm_medium=text&utm_campaign=cppst