

Noida police raids spurious Amul butter factory

According to media reports, Noida police have busted a gang selling spurious Amul butter. Police say the accused were selling fake butter and clarified butter in wrappers bearing the Amul brand name.

The fake dairy products recovered from them are worth Rs 65 lakh. Eleven persons in all were involved in the crime and all of them were arrested, police say.

A case under various sections of IPC has been registered against them.

Source: <https://www.indiancooperative.com/co-op-news-snippets/noida-police-raids-spurious-amul-butter-factory/>